Last Day's Proceedings and Adjournment of the

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE.

Mendoza on the Reported Upheaval in Rio Janeiro—Will Sue to Recover
for Timber Cut—Without Constituency.

The National Republican Committee.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The national republican committee adjourned sine die at 6:30 o'clock last evening. Shortly after 10 o'clock a.m. the committee met in secret session in the Arlington hotel, and its first business was to refer to the executive committee, with power to new the preparation of all matters connected with the Minneapolis convention. It was agreed that the executive committee would assume general charge of this work, including the direction of the preparation of the convention hall, the printing of tickets of admission, the appointment of assistant sergeants-at-arms, doorkeepers, etc., the taking of a stenographic report of the proceedings and other routine work of preparation and conduct.

During the session a conference took place between the committee and some members of the citizens' delegation of Minnesotans, and as a result it was decided to have a chart made showing the seating capacity and other details of the hall.

The call for the national convention of next year was submitted to the committee by the subcommittee in charge of its preparation and approved. The committee elected Channing F. Meeks, of Colorado, sergeant-at-arms.

Minister Mendoza received notice of the resignation of President Fonseca, and stated that Vice-President Pinto had also resigned. He said that Minister Fonseca had been in the service of the United States and Europe for years past, had for an associate a man named Bernard Smith, who has managed so far to escape arrest. This Smith appears to be the principal in the forgeries, as Le Grand was in the blackmailing operations. Smith forged the signature and personalized Hon. Wm. Ashburton, in whose name he wrote letters to a turf commission agent named Webster, enclosing a check for $200 for investment.

The check was naturally forged.

Minister Fonseca was not a man who would cause bloodshed and would willingly sacrifice the honor and glory of his high position rather than cause a civil war, and as the uprising in Brazil was a national movement, the people not being in accord with the policy of Fonseca, he received this and other large sum through forgeries. Evidence was given connecting Lu Grand with Smith in the forgeries and Lu Grand was found guilty by the jury and sentence passed.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—The man Le Grand, known as "The French Colonel," Capt. Anderson and by other names, who has been convicted of writing threatening letters to Lady Jessel, Baroness Bolever and other ladies, was convicted yesterday of forging checks and uttering them to the London and Westminster bank. Le Grand, who is believed by the police to be a noted American criminal, who has been in the service of the United States and Europe for years past, had for an associate a man named Bernard Smith, who has managed so far to escape arrest. RUMOR, a victim to aches and pains, is surely weaseling, until I can slowly creep to the nearest drug store.

It is highly interesting to hear Harry Midkiff and J. P. Faris tell about the experience they had one night down in Missouri where they were entertained at a mansion, the family and guests sleeping
in one room, the Decatur hunters passing over their plugs of tobacco to the ladies for her bite of a "chaw,"
and then taking in the usual spectacle of seeing the woman up in the fireplace
just like the men.

Specimens Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Castle, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism and was advised to take Dr. Miles' Nervine.
The Liver was affected to a alarming degree,
appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years'
standing, and was told by Dr. Miles' Electric Bitters, and seven boxes of Dr. Miles' Nervine
Salve, and his leg is sound and well.
John Speaker, Catonow, O., had five large Fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklin's Arnica
Salve cured him entirely. Sold at King & Wood's drug store.

The Secret of Success.

W. G. Armstrong, druggist, behoves

that the secret of success is perseverance.

Therefore, they persist in keeping the finest line of perfumes, toilet articles,

cosmetics, drugs and chemicals on the market. They especially invite their clients to make a call on them.

They sell to the office of the county

superintendent and there enjoy an elaborate toilet supper.

The following towns

were afterwards offered by D. L. Bunn:

"The Sisters of Decatur Lodge."

"Sisters' Night, May It Come Again."

"Theodore Colozza."

"The Brothers of Decatur Lodge."

"Miss Emma Williams."

"Cinea Reception—Arthur Wilson."

After the supper the members returned to the hotel hall and spent the remainder of the evening in social converse.

Thoughtful.

Gen'l Manager Bargeron, of the T. H.

& P., believes in giving his employees

an occasional holiday. The following circular issued by him is self-explanatory:

"It is the desire of the management that all employees who wish, may spend the coming Thanksgiving at home with their families. Heads of the several departments are requested to arrange with out detriment to the service, which must

of necessity be performed. On application to proper officers, passes will be granted to employees and their immediate

families."

Now Try This.

It will cost you nothing and will surely

do you good. Call on Dr. Miles' Cough and Liver Bitters.

They are the best in the world. They do not touch the carpet

and for that reason do not wear the cap

off of even the finest Moquet or Axminster

carpet.
